To get the most out of your new woofer, please read this manual thoroughly before you begin the installation.

Box Contents RK10W
Each Sonance RK10W Rock Woofer includes the following: (1) RK10W Rock Woofer (1) Removable wire termination cover plate; (4) screws

Installing and Connecting the RK10W
The RK10W has built-in low-pass and high-pass filters that direct the bass frequencies to the RK10W and the rest of the sound to your satellite speakers. This dramatically improves the satellite speakers’ power handling.

For best sound quality, we recommend that each satellite speaker be placed no more than 8 feet away from the RK10W. If the satellites are placed too far away from the RK10W the woofer’s sound will not blend with the sound from the satellites.

1. Dig a 4” – 5” deep trench to run the speaker wires in. You will need a trench from the area near your amplifier to the RK10W, and then from the RK10W to the two satellite speakers.

2. Run 2 lengths of the appropriate gauge wire through the trench from your amplifier to the RK10W. Connect those wires to the RK10W according to the illustration to the right.

3. Connect the wires from your satellite speakers to the RK10W according to the illustration to the right.

IMPORTANT: Be sure not to let any stray ‘+’ and ‘-’ wires touch each other. Touching wires can cause a short-circuit that could damage your amplifier.

4. After you have made the previous connections, connect the wires to your amplifier. Double-check that you connected all of the wires properly (amplifier ‘+’ to speaker ‘+’; amplifier ‘-’ to speaker ‘-’) at all of the connections.

5. After confirming that you’ve properly made all of the connections, turn your amplifier on and test the system with your favorite music. If the speakers are all operating properly, refill the wire trenches and using the supplied screws, attach the wire termination cover plate to the connector panel on the bottom of the RK10W enclosure. The cover plate will keep moisture from damaging the connections.

Wire Gauge and Quality
Extra resistance in the speaker wire can make a speaker sound less dynamic and reduce definition of the bass frequencies. In extreme cases, it can even attenuate high frequencies. Also, amplifier power is wasted in wire with extra resistance, reducing your system’s maximum output level.

To prevent degrading sound quality, the total wire resistance should be less than 10% of the speaker’s impedance. This means that for 8-ohm speakers like the RK10W Rock Woofer, the total resistance of the wire should be less than 0.8 ohms. Refer to the following table when selecting the proper wire gauge for your system.
